about the juror

Janine Dunn Wade

Painting is a conversation. The subject, the paint and the artist get involved in a dialogue. There is a real ebb and flow. The artist must absolutely bend to the direction the painting has decided on.

Born in New York City, Janine Dunn Wade received her B.F.A. from Villanova University in 1981, also studying abroad in Paris, Italy, and Mexico. Painting mostly with pastels, and more recently oils, much of her work depicts the bucolic landscape of Bucks County, with her aim being "to allow the viewer that rare moment in the breakneck pace of today's society, to relive and celebrate, to emotionally connect his soul with a moment and place in time." Her work has been exhibited locally, receiving awards from Phillips' Mill and the Coryell Gallery, among others. She currently lives with her family in Doylestown.

A Big Thank You to Our Juror!

Dying Embers, Acrylic, 12 x 12" by Christopher Mac Kinnon

SECOND PLACE AWARD

Juror's Statement

The expressive brushwork in 'Dying Embers' creates a dynamic rhythm that makes this painting absolutely sing.

Juror's Statement

My eye is happily circling around this stunning composition. Repeating red notes create balance and direct me toward the window while the position of the chair makes me feel I can accept the invitation and step right into this enchanted space.
